

Мапирање података (Data mapping)

This program I've made to use in Hydrometeorological service where I work.

It connects to MSSQL online database and get data about weather and choosing parameter (temperature, pressure, wind speed and direction...) and after choosing desired parameter , also depending on date and time it shows that data to following place on map giving us graphical view of parameter . This program gives better view to our weather forecasters about weather in specified time and place.

